Organizing the Donation Drive

1. Identify What Items You Will Ask For

Contact us at donate@7hillscenter.org or call us at 479-966-4644 to request a copy of our Urgent Needs List. This list has been designed to make donating the most useful items to us as easy as possible. If you have a particular kind of drive in mind, it is best to give us a description of the item(s) you are trying to donate and letting us know any time constraints you may have in donating them.

2. Select a Committee

Donation drives are fun, but they also require a certain amount of planning in order to be successful. Gather a committee that wants to be an integral part of your drive and assign everyone specific tasks. Some of the duties you may want to assign are as follows:

- Chairman of the committee to oversee all details and answer all questions
- Liaison with management
- Coordinator of advertising/promotion
- Photographer Outside public relations/media contact
- Coordinator of donation collection boxes
- Chief of storing the donations
- Coordinator of packing and transportation to the non-profit organization

3. Set Goals

Determine the amount of donations you want to raise. Encourage people to help you meet or surpass your goals by putting up flyers and telling them the importance of your drive.

4. Is a Matching Gift Available?

If you are with a company, many are willing and able to make a matching gift of their employee contributions – even when employees are giving food instead of cash. For example, if donating food, see if your company will donate a dollar for every pound of food raised.

Running the Drive

Collect Depending on what your planning committee decides, you can collect your donations at one or more locations.

Engage multiple locations

- If possible/desired, coordinate donation drive events and collections at multiple locations in your area: other schools, stores, banks, restaurants, pharmacies, or grocery stores.
- Use same branded collection bins at all locations to increase recognition & awareness.
- Encourage everyone to promote the opportunity to colleagues and peers in the weeks leading up to event.
- Engage planning committee to create promotional items (signs, bag stuffers, table tents, counter signs).

Make Supply Drive Event a Destination

- Decorate a portion of the office or school to make the drop-off area exciting.
- If desired, work together to engage local media to acknowledge donation drive.
- Incorporate into existing events, especially company picnics or school celebrations.

“Collect” Supplies Online

- Offer a “sponsor a box” online: $30 donation buys a box of food to feed a family of four for a week
- Use an online giving site to create fundraising promotion to “Stuff a Virtual Box”. Utilize social networking sites, like Facebook Causes to raise awareness for the Donation Drive as well.
- Use a relatable number, for example $5 donation purchases 1 notebook, packet of pencils, and 2 erasers.
- Share the fundraising progress with your office or school.
- Leverage social media to excite your network by sharing specific supply needs.
- Send fundraising opportunity to all employees or families of students via email or newsletter (see Sample Newsletter Article below).
- If available, present a matching gift challenge, where the company matches individuals' donations; all donations go to purchasing supplies.

Sort As donations are received, take time to run through the donations to look for items that cannot be used once delivered to the nonprofit. Consider taking photos of mounds of supplies before they are sorted into the way that the receiving nonprofit has designated. See the timeline in the following pages for ideas to consider as you plan your drive.

Deliver Delivering the supplies, too, is a great way to engage others and generate attention for the success of the donation drive. Ideas may include:
Inviting donors to assist in the delivery of the donations.
Wear school/office t-shirts to promote publicity of donations.

Promote There are many ways to generate excitement and visibility throughout the drive. In the tool-kit you will find samples of documents to use when promoting the donation drive. A few tips to consider:

- Is there a way to film/photo the pile of supplies, supplies being sorted, hundreds of backpacks filling a bus, volunteers and children?
- Use social media to reach new audiences: Twitter, Facebook to spread messages.

Timeline

Every donation drive is different. Whatever form your donation drive takes, this sample timeline will help guide your collection and event planning from concept to celebration.

6-8 Weeks

- Identify potential community partners (companies, retail businesses, agencies, chambers of commerce, council on corporate volunteerism, faith-based groups, colleges, labor unions) and others to:
- Receive and deliver school supply collections. Serve as collection or drop-off centers.
- Provide transportation and logistical support.
- Donate warehouse or parking lot space for an event. Help promote the project, e.g., media, publicity volunteers.

- Schedule face-to-face or phone meetings to discuss a project ideas.
- Determine next steps for each member of the planning committee (their role, time commitment, how to manage collection of supplies).

4-6 Weeks

- Brief other staff or committee members on all aspects of the project and involve them in any further planning and preparation.
- Schedule post-event meeting, to ensure that committee members are available to debrief and attend to follow-up tasks.
- Draft agenda for the day of an event. Notify your marketing & communication departments for PR/media plan.
- Discuss documentation (photos, video) of an event.
- Recruit a volunteer photographer if possible. If needed, verify need for photo a release form.
- If needed, order event t-shirts, signage or other collateral, as needed.
- Plan any transportation and other logistics needed.

- Address any remaining questions and concerns.
- Recruit volunteers.
- Secure attendance of all dignitaries as needed for an event's agenda.
